REPORT

The Department of Political Science has celebrated a Briksharopan Utsav today with the positive participation of all its students. A humble attempt has been made to plant a total of 15 saplings in the college ground. The objective of this event has been to demonstrate the value of environmental preservation and an attempt to make the earth a greener and a more habitable space. The Department considers this a step closer to a greener campus and a healthier planet.

The pictures of the event can be presented as follows-
