On 13th of July, 2021, the Department of Economics at Raiganj Surendranath Mahavidyalaya organized a web lecture series on the topic "An Analysis of Employment Theory in the Light of Classical Macroeconomic Approach." The lecture was delivered by Dr. Srijana Rai, an esteemed Associate Professor of Economics at Kurseong College using online platform.

Key area of Lecture:

Employment Theory Analysis: Dr. Rai provided a comprehensive analysis of employment theories within the framework of classical macroeconomics. She delved into the foundational principles of classical economics and their implications for understanding employment dynamics.

Macroeconomic Approach: The lecture emphasized the macroeconomic perspective in analyzing employment trends. Dr. Rai discussed how factors such as aggregate demand, supply, and government policies influence employment levels within an economy.

Historical Context: Drawing from historical examples, Dr. Rai elucidated the evolution of employment theories and their relevance in contemporary economic discourse. She highlighted the contributions of classical economists to shaping our understanding of employment dynamics.

Interactive Session: Attendees had the opportunity to ask questions and participate in discussions, fostering a conducive learning environment.

It can be concluded that the web lecture provided a valuable opportunity for participants to deepen their understanding of economic principles related to employment. The event was a testament to the Department of Economics' commitment to promoting academic discourse and intellectual engagement. Such initiatives serve to enrich the academic community and foster a culture of lifelong learning.
